

Zoo-ology

The Interactive Personality Profile

Are you surrounded by a zoo? The Lions want it done their way—and fast; the Peacocks think everything should be fun and color-coded; the Lambs take on more than they can possibly do in a day; and the Owls are quiet and cordial, then zap you with an email later.

Believe it or not, each of these perceived negatives is an incredible strength, that when understood, helps your team to thrive. Discover Zoo-ology and learn why some team members want all the details, while others just want the bottom line. And some feel the office environment should be fun, while others believe it should be serious.

When you understand what motivates the animals in your zoo it becomes easy to capitalize on their unique strengths.
